BOOKS

Books are classified using the Dewey Decimal Classification system making it easier for us to organise related subjects together on the shelves. This in turn makes it easier for you to find the book you need.

Not all books relevant to your course will be located in just one area, so you may have to look around the library to find what you need.

Below is a selection of class numbers that will be of relevance to you:

Engineering and technical mathematics	510:620
Engineering	620
Technical drawing	620.04
Mechanical engineering	621
Electrical engineering	621.3
Electronics	621.381
Sound engineering	621.3893
Manufacturing technology	621.7
Structural engineering	624
